

The Tufts LGBT Center presents...

Who The Hell Am I?

A Workshop on Multiple Identities

Most people recognize that there are stereotypes related to race and stereotypes related to sexual orientation. In addition, there are stereotypes that link race and sexual orientation. They speak to assumptions about who LGBT people are and how people of color relate to LGBT people.

Friday, April 18
3-5 p.m.
LGBT Center

Al Toney

provided diversity and awareness education consulting services and cultural competency workshops throughout the country since 1993. As an openly gay African American male, Al has been the target of homophobia and racism. His work is dedicated to the elimination of these and other forms of discrimination.

Call or email the LGBT Center to register: lgbt@tufts.edu or 617-627-3770

Students, faculty, and staff are invited.